

DECORATE AS YOU EDUCATE

I love to learn, but I hate to be taught. Winston Churchill

Paint words from The Loving Dictionary all over your child's room as a border, or do this in the classroom at day school, Sunday school or any school. Or just print them on colorful pieces of paper and put them around the room. As a child demonstrates the positive behavior and qualities of the words that are painted on the walls, point out the words. Talk to them about the words, about what they mean and how those words reflect their behavior. You can use this playful time together to teach them how to spell the words.